FROM THE PREACHER'S DESK

February 26, 2023

I always love seeing the excitement brought home by our students when they return from Winterfest. This was displayed again last Sunday night as Ethan Broome was baptized into Christ. I am so thankful that our students get to experience that trip each year, but more importantly, I am thankful for our student ministry here at Kingwood. These students are different. I watch them engage in worship. They love to worship. So many times, teens sit and watch without fully engaging but not this group. They are committed and connected as well as being a huge part of this church. They are not the future of the church. They are a huge part of the church this very moment. I am proud of them. I love them. I am honored to watch their faith grow on a daily basis.

We have been focusing on worship for the last three Sundays and will continue for the next handful of Sundays. As you have noticed, we have been intentional about trying to make our time together fresh and relevant. It is easy to do the same thing each week and allow ourselves the opportunity to feel complacent. As we are looking at worship, we want to offer a time to engage with the Father in heaven as we engage with each other as well. We have also been looking at how to make communion more meaningful, our singing more encouraging, and our time more inspiring. The best way to accomplish all of this is to simply engage and pour yourself into this time. You, and the rest of us, will benefit greatly!
