FROM THE PREACHER'S DESK

October 16, 2022

I have had some things on my mind recently and would like to take this space to share them. I have watched an area of our country that I love, southwest Florida, be damaged significantly by the hurricane recently. Places that we have visited while we lived there have been destroyed. Friends and members of the church I worked in have lost everything except the most precious thing, life itself. I have been saddened by this but I have also been encouraged to see all the ways people are reaching out to serve and to attempt to rebuild. Why do I share this? Ultimately, these tragedies are reminders to me of what is really important in life. Our relationship with Christ, our spiritual responsibilities, and our eternal home is what matters the most. This world we live in is simply not our home for long. As the old hymn says, we are just passing through. While my heart breaks when I see tragedies like what we have seen, I am encouraged to remember what is really important. So, I want to challenge every single one of us to re-engage our spiritual walk in a way that we are powerful representations of a loving and gracious Father that created and redeemed us through His Son. This affects how we love and treat our families, friends, neighbors, co-workers, and more. As we live in this temporary place, don't forget what really is important in life!

After 13 years of service to the body here at Kingwood, Kelley Fox has informed us that she will be leaving her position as Administrative Assistant on November 4, 2022. Kelley will be staying home to keep her sweet grandson, Raylan, and we are thrilled she has that opportunity even though we absolutely hate to see her go. Kelley has been a tremendous asset to us at Kingwood and will be sorely missed. We have begun the process to find the next person to work with us on staff. If you have interest in having a conversation, please see me as soon as possible.
